Welcome! If you would like to explore Law either in anticipation of studying Law in Autumn, or just for fun, then this is one place to start...

There are a variety of tasks for you to have a go at and explore some of the key ideas and aspects of law that we will explore during the next couple of years.

You will also find, a suggested ‘watch list’ of documentaries and films which are relevant to law – this is only a few, there are plenty more court room dramas and crime documentaries out there!

Finally, there are textbook recommendations and some key questions that need to be researched based on the British Legal System and Law Making in the UK.

Why do prisoners only serve half their term? (bbc.co.uk – open hyperlink in title)

Using a range of the information on in the source (linked in the title), produce a summary of the current operation of sentencing in England and Wales in the space below. You may present the information in any format you like, but it must cover the questions below and must not simply be copy and paste.

What influences the sentence the judge hands down?	What type of sentences may a judge hand down?	Why do most offences offer a range of options?	How does a judge decide which tariff to hand down for murder?	When are most offenders released and what happens to them?

Task Three: Operation of the Legal System

Sarah Langford: In Your Defence

Langford is a practising defence barrister and wrote this book to highlight some of the key issues within the law that she saw. It is very readable, and uses 11 cases to illustrate different issues within the law. Each chapter begins with the 'action' of the case, and then switches to the case and her role and perception of the issues within it.

You are going to read Case 1: Dominic.

Particulars of the first offence (what happened):	Prior Offending history:
What concerns did Langford have about representing him in the Magistrates Court?	View of the police:
What was the judgement of the court on the first offence and why?	Critical Response: how far do you agree with Langford on the outcome for this first offence?
Particulars of the second offence (what happened):	What issues surrounding sentencing and remand are raised in this section?
What sentence was handed down to Dominic for this first case and why did that cause issues for both Sarah and Dominic?

Critical Thinking: How would you address the issues brought up by this chapter?

The Courage of Our Convictions: Appeals

The Secret Barrister is a blogger and practicing Criminal law Barrister. Last year, he collated a number of issues into a book: Stories of the Law and How It's Broken. It's a great read and very hard hitting – essentially it covers most of what we do in the English Legal System.

If you get the chance read Chapter 11. This focuses on appeals, their operation and the consequences of winning an appeal (it's not all roses and happiness!) You need to complete the grid in as much detail as you can.

Impact of prison on offender and their family:	What does he think of the current appeals system and why?
Do you think he is right to say that to most people the Court of Appeal is "everything"?	Case Study: Victor Nealon Impact of maintaining innocence on sentence: Facts: Charge: Grounds of appeals and outcomes: Outcomes of appeals: Issues with compensation:
Key facts and figures on appeals in the Court of Appeal (including leave):
Bridgewater Four: What issues with the operation of appeals are brought out by this case and the enquiries?	What happens to D after a successful appeal?
